

The story behind storyPanels™

In the Fall of 2010 Allen Moore of Touchstone3D Services and Doug Foster of the Idea Mechanics joined forces and moved together into a new location. After finding a need for new whiteboards in the conference room, Moore outfitted the space with custom units using an "Industrial Erector Set" from the 80/20 company. The new boards looked great! In fact, so great that as Foster studied them he remarked "They look like giant story boards, only empty. Wait. I've got an idea ..."
